THE Stan Lee PRESENTS THE AMAZING SPIDER-MAN

THIRTY-TWO CITY BLOCKS TO THE NORTH, AND TWENTY SEVEN STORIES ABOVE THE GROUND, A CERTAIN FRIENDLY NEIGHBORHOOD WEB-SPINNER'S EARS WOULD CERTAINLY BE BURNING --

-- IF HE WASN'T PRESENTLY EMBOILED IN A FAR MORE PRESSING PROBLEM!

W-WHAT'S WRONG WITH ME? HOW COULD I BE SO CARELESS? SO CLUMSY?

I WAS IN MID-SWING BETWEEN BUILDINGS WHEN MY HEAD SUDDENLY STARTED POUNDING!

AND I WAS SO DISTRACTED BY MY SURPRISE HEADACHE THAT I...

...I MISSED MY NEXT WEB-LINE!

THEN CAME... ELEKTRA

STUPID!
STUPID!
STUPID!

I ALMOST DESERVE TO BE SPATTERED ACROSS THE PAVEMENT FOR BEING SUCH A KLUTZ!

LUCKILY I CAN SLOW MY MOMENTUM WITH A TRIPLE SOMERSAULT --

-- AND A BANK SHOT OFF THE SIDE OF THIS BUILDING!

A FEW SWINGS AROUND THAT ROOF-TOP ANTENNA SHOULD DEplete THE REST OF MY IMPETUS, AND -- Oh, GREAT!

MY SPIDER-SENSE JUST KICKED IN, AND I'VE GOT A BAD FEELING IT'S TRYING TO WARN ME --

SNAP

-- THAT I'M A FEW POUNDS OVER THE RECOMMENDED WEIGHT LIMIT!

AMAZING!

Introducing Comic Book Champions™
Fine Pewter Limited Edition Series.

INAUGURAL SERIES

They're thrilling! They're dynamic! And very soon, they'll be history. They're Comic Book Champions, a limited edition fine pewter series featuring classic comic book characters. They'll amaze you as they leap out of a die-cast metal base in front of a framed replica of a comic book cover. Each figure in Series I is hand-sculpted, cast in highly detailed pewter and only available once, starting in April. The master molds are destroyed after final casting to ensure their value.

And each figure is accompanied by a hand-numbered certificate of authenticity. Another reason they'll amaze you is their unbelievable price. Each Comic Book Champions release is an amazing value, whether you're a comic book fan or collector. Super-Villains can't resist the incredible power of these brave Super Heroes and you won't be able to either. Give in to the power of Marvel and Comic Book Champions now... before it's too late.

ISN'T IT OBVIOUS?
I'M WINNING!

I'M SICK OF HOLDING BACK -- OF USING ONLY A FRACTION OF MY STRENGTH 'CAUSE I'M ONE OF THE GOOD GUYS!

DO YOU WANT TO SEE WHAT SPIDER-MAN IS REALLY CAPABLE OF?

THIS IS WHAT REAL POWER IS ALL ABOUT!

I'M THROUGH PLAYING THE LOSER! THE PATSY! I WON'T ALLOW ANYONE TO HUMILIATE ME AGAIN!

YOU CAN CHECK OUR ENTIRE INVENTORY ON THE WORLD WIDE WEB!

www.milehighcomics.com

It's a comics shop open 24 hours, 7 days a week just for you!

DOES THAT ANYONE INCLUDE -- YOUR-SELF?!

THE HARSH VOICE CUTS THROUGH THE HAZE... THE POUNDING IN PETER PARKER'S FEVERED BRAIN. AND THEN... REASON RETURNS SUDDENLY -- MERCIFULLY.

MUSCLES RELAX... AND TONS OF RAILROAD CARS ARE PLACED BACK ON THE TRACKS.

NOTHING PERSONAL, ELEKTRA...

...BUT YOU'RE REALLY STARTING TO BUG ME!

I TEND TO HAVE THAT EFFECT ON PEOPLE!

SHAKK

WHY AM I NOT SURPRISED?

Oh, WELL! I MAY HAVE ACTED LIKE A BIG JERK, AND STILL HAVE A SCORE TO EVEN WITH ELECTRO...

...BUT AT LEAST THE HEROES CAN MARK A WIN IN THEIR COLUMN.

IS THAT TRUE, CHILD?
HAS GOODNESS TRULY PREVAILED?

YOU MAY ADDRESS ME AS MEIKO OR DRAGONFLY.

I AM NO CHILD.

I CAME HERE TONIGHT TO INFORM THE TRUE BELIEVERS THAT THE HAND HAS FOUND THEM.

IT WAS MY INTENTION TO STAY ON THE SIDELINES, SHELTERING THE INNOCENT, WHILE THEY BUTCHERED EACH OTHER.

IT WAS A FOOLISH CHOICE!
NEITHER MY FIRST... NOR MY LAST!

IF THE WAR COMES, PEOPLE SUCH AS US WILL SURELY BE DRAWN INTO THE HEART OF THE STORM.

A WISE CHOICE! THEIR BLOOD FEUD IS A FIRESTORM WHICH CONSUMES LIVES LIKE KINDLING.

I KNOW!

MANY ARE THE DECISIONS WHICH MUST BE MADE, MEIKO.

YOUR JOURNEY WAS BEGUN IN DARKNESS, BUT YOU CAN BE REBORN TO THE LIGHT!

Welcome back, friends! We've got a bushel of letters left over from AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #418, the penultimate chapter in the blockbuster "Revelations" storyline, and we can't wait to bring them to ya! But first, a few lines about those who've expressed interest in sending your mail to us directly over the internet!

That's right, we've joined the latter decade of the 20th Century already! So those of you with computers and modems may now direct your mail to:

mailmarvel@aol.com

and it'll land right in our hot little hands! Just be sure to clearly mention the title and issue of the comic you're writing to, and clearly state that the letter is for publication. We couldn't be more stoked over this opportunity to get even more feedback from our fearless fans, so get to it already! And don't worry, if you prefer to use regular mail, we'll still print you!

Dear Spider-People,

Let me start by saying that I have never written to a comic book before, but after AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #418, I had to send in my thoughts. First of all, about the art — it was great! When I heard the Bag-Man was leaving, I almost quit collecting the book. Mark Bagley is by far the best Spider-Man artist to come along yet! However, I decided to stick around long enough to see how Steve Skroce would do on this book.

I was surprised to open the book and see that Mr. Skroce was actually very good! His art is more cartoony than I prefer, but I like it! It reminds me of the transition from McFarlane to Larsen years ago. However, I'm not complaining. As I said, I loved it!

Secondly, about the story, there were a few things that shocked me about this issue. The apparent death of Pete and Mary Jane's baby. I know this is a sham, right? Y'all have worked on the story of MJ's baby too long to have it end like this! To say that the reappearance of Norman Osborn was a great shock is the understatement of the year! I hope he reassumes his identity of the Green Goblin! I really have nothing to say about Gaunt's identity except, "Oh, phooey!"

Finally, this is the issue before the return of the one, true Spider-Man, and I just want to say, please don't kill Ben! Give him his own book or something, but don't kill him. I will be good to see the new suit go, but it will be good to see the return of the old one. Well, thanks for another great issue. Keep 'em coming! So until...oh, never mind. Make Mine Marvel!

Glad to hear you're adapting to Steve's art style, Willie! He's definitely a departure from the eminent Mr. Bagley, but Steve's been gaining more and more supporters each month. Welcome to the ranks assembled!

Dear Spider's Web,

I have just finished reading AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #418, "Revelations" part three of four. All I have to say is that you people have destroyed all the faith I've ever had in the Spider-Man books. It is gone.

What is the matter with you people? Haven't Peter and Mary Jane gone through enough? First you bring back Peter's clone. Then you kill Aunt May. Then, in the middle of her funeral, Peter was arrested and sent to jail. His name was cleared, and then he discovered he was a clone. You sent him to Oregon, away from all of his friends, leaving the Spider-Man name to Ben. Then you take away Peter's powers. Then you bring him back to New York and to the torture of watching someone else wield the webs. You then put him through the nearly fatal experience of regaining his spider-powers. And now you top it off by killing Peter's and Mary Jane's baby. Haven't they been through enough already?

Peter deserves vengeance. Spider-Man, and by that I mean Peter, the real one, should hunt down and destroy Alison Morgraine and Norman Osborn and anyone who had anything to do with this sick, twisted little revenge attack.

I can see Osborn going after Peter, with or without his powers, or even Mary Jane or Aunt Anna, but a defenseless, helpless, newborn child? That seems a bit vile, even for comic books. Talk about your sickos.

What's the deal here, though? Can't Peter be a father and a web-slinging hero? The only good thing that came along with Ben's pathetic little career as Spidey was some of the humor he brought along; Peter was getting a little grim a while back. Do you think killing his child will bring back the good of Spider-Man humor? I doubt it.

I find it hard to believe that Norman has been around all these years. Don't you think he would have stepped in to try to prevent his son's death, or maybe, at least, said something about the recent Green Goblin-gone-guy shlick?

Anyway, I hope this is some kind of sick joke and the child is really still alive, or I can tell you I will never look at a Spider-Man book the same way again. I can also say that if the baby isn't still, miraculously, alive somehow, you've finally stopped Making Mine Marvel.

Michael Miller
(Address withheld by request)

We hope that you've stuck with us this long, Michael, because then you would have caught a few of the tantalizing hints that we've dropped recently that certainly make it look more and more like little May is indeed very alive. No further comment on this issue other than to say that the matter certainly is not closed.

As for why Norman did not become more closely involved with some of the events in Spider-Man continuity over the past few years, well, first let's remember that he was all the way over in Europe. Sure, he was keeping tabs on Spidey, but how closely can one watch from that far away? Norman was pleased that Harry had adopted his mantle, and certainly couldn't have predicted the heart attack that ensued from Harry's version of the Goblin formula, much less hurried overseas in time to stop it. And as for the Phil Ulrich Green Goblin, if you read that title, you'll see that once Norman became aware of his activities, he quickly sent Gaunt to disperse with the upstart, a confrontation which directly led to Phil's abandoning his alter-ego.

Dear Spider's Web,

Being a devoted fan of DC (mostly, anyway), I was reluctant to take the advice of Keith and Paul at Universal Comics in High Point, NC, to read the "Revelations" storyline in the Spider-Man books. With high comic book prices and being on a budget, it's hard to pick up "extra" issues.

It's been a while since I've read a Marvel comic and was actually anxious for the next issue. Yes! You've succeeded. Even though it'll be tough deciding which of my regular subscription titles I'll have to drop...I'm definitely adding Spidey.

Barry Hallfield
(Address withheld by request)

Wow, you can't get much better praise than that, eh? Welcome aboard, Barry, it's certainly nice to have you around. And a big thanks as well to Keith and Paul. Take a bow, guys, and back in the applause of Marveldom Assembled! You've earned it.

Oh, and Barry, just one bit of advice: Don't buy any more Marvels!! You just may find yourself dropping all the other titles on your subscription list, as well!

Dear Spider-Team,

I really wanted to wait until after the entire "Revelations" storyline had been presented before I wrote to let you know what I thought of it, but after reading AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #418, I can hold back no longer!

A lot of unusual things happen in comic books, and this issue was no exception. I originally thought it would be Harry Osborn who would turn out to be the mastermind behind everything that's happened to Spidey in the past few years. By the time you revealed that it was actually Norman Osborn, I had begun to suspect that it had to be someone for more cunning and diabolical than poor Harry. Norman is the perfect choice, and very logical once I stepped back and looked at the larger picture.

I also enjoyed seeing more of Arthur Stacy — I wonder how long it will be before someone in the Police Department makes him realize that Spidey is actually a hero? It will be interesting to watch his role in Spidey's story unfold in the coming months.

I also have a theory about the fate of Peter and MJ's baby. If the baby really was stillborn, then I have to applaud you for your guts in making a move sure to arouse tons of comments from all around the Spider-world. And if, as I think more likely, the baby was merely suffering from the concoction added to MJ's soup at the Daily Grind, I have to applaud even more loudly. Sure, this could be regarded as a swipe from several X-Men plots, but I think the Spider-learn is better than that.

If Norman Osborn really has abducted the Parker baby, I can see possible storylines and plots stemming from that action that could have impact and consequences both in the present and for years, maybe even decades, to come.

Congratulations on one of the best stories in the main Spidey books in a long, long time. Now all we have to do is return Peter to his proper role as Spider-Man, and I have a feeling that's coming next week, in SPIDER-MAN #75.

Before I go, I want to take one last moment to comment on Ben Reilly. I'll grant that I didn't like him as either the Scarlet Spider or as Spider-Man. But I do like the character, and I do like his current costume. Free free to let Peter keep this costume, even after Ben is no longer Spidey. And keep Ben around if you want, but let him be absent from the Spidey books for a year or two first. Maybe send him off to California to become the Crimson Spider and have a life of his own, until his clone degeneration kicks in.

Thanks for the letter, Ivan. As you know by now, Arthur Stacy has indeed been making his presence felt, and he's not the only member of the Stacy family to do so! And he is certainly quite a ways from being convinced of Spidey's heroism. Just exactly what is going on with this impromptu Stacy family reunion, anyway? Stay tuned...

Dear Spider's Web,

Peter and Mary Jane's baby is dead. Whoa. That's too deep for comics. I guess I should have seen it coming. As a kid, I thought it would be really cool to be Spider-Man. Now I realize what a horrible life Peter (and Ben, for that matter) has had. Everyone around Spider-Man has either died or turned into a super-villain. Poor Peter has lost his parents, his aunt and uncle, Gwen Stacy, Harry Osborn, and now his child, plus many more I'm probably forgetting. Most of the villains Spider-Man encounters are usually connected to Peter in some way. It's sad. Maybe I should've wanted to be a mutant. Sure, everyone would hate me but at least they would still be alive.

On a lighter note, I've experienced Steve Skroce's work on CABLE and X-MAN before this issue of AMAZING SPIDER-MAN, and I just have one little complaint. Mr. Skroce, sir, you seem to draw everyone as if they were elderly. Not everyone is that wrinkled. Other than that, Spidey looked great. I'm looking forward to the Black Tarantula.

perfect not to!

Dear Spider's Web,

Yes!!! Norman Osborn is alive. The original Green Goblin is back! I must say it's been a long time coming. Ever since the classic AMAZING SPIDER-MAN #121-122, I've been hoping that somehow, Norman Osborn would come back to make his presence felt in the wall-crawler's life. Boy, has he ever! I figured that there was no way possible to bring him back without compromising everything this book is based on, but you guys did it in a satisfying and shocking way. Great job!

All I ask is that you keep him around. Please don't kill him off right away. The 1996 Norman Osborn could open up so many possibilities for this title in the months to come. The Spider-Man/Osborn feud, in my opinion, has always been one of mystery, intrigue, and surprises. And I think this could be just the beginning. Keep bringing him back every 25-30 issues or so, simply to remind Peter that he will always be there to haunt him!

The "Revelations" storyline has proved to be one surprise after the other. Keep it up, guys! I'm sure you have many more shocks in store for the web-slinger in the near future!

Until Burt Hamilton returns from the dead, Make Mine Marvel!

Thanks for the kind words, Ric! You certainly seem pretty enthusiastic about ol' Normie's return. Why don't you go talk to Rob up there—he needs a little cheering up on the matter.

You wouldn't possibly think that we'd bring Norman Osborn back from the great beyond, and then kill him off right away, would you? That would be the last thing you would expect, wouldn't it? But, then again, as you said, we've been doing everything you didn't expect all along, and that would mean...Nah, we can't let you in on what we're planning. What fun would that be?

NEXT ISSUE:

We harken back to the days of yesteryear. Yes, indeed, do it's FLASHBACK month! We look in on the idyllic days when a young boy named Peter lived with his Aunt May and Uncle Ben. Sounds pretty placid, doesn't it? Wrong! It seems there's this guy named Wilson Fisk, right? He's got some pretty big ideas, and he's ready to start putting them into place now, so watch out! So join us, won't you, in enjoying the timeless prose of Tom DeFalco, the ever-amenable guest pencils of Joe Bennett, the always-affable inks of Bud La Rosa, and never-in-by-noun Ralf!

STAN'S SOAPBOX

(Awesome Answers to your Querulous Questions by Stan "The Man" Lee)

Hey, stop! Come back! Escape is useless! It's too late to protest! You can't make me change my mind! I'm definitely returning to my good ol' column here on the bombastic Bullpen Bulletins page, so from now on I'll be yakkin' with you in every issue just like old times — except for one big change!

Naturally, I can guess your next question — the answer is no! We're not gonna lower the cover price just because you're stuck with me again! I mean, you can always skip the Soapbox — that is, if you don't mind missing the wondrous wisdom, sagacious scoops, and philosophical phantasmagoria I'll be generously bestowing upon thee! After all, nothing's too good for a Marvel True Believer!

As you probably know, I've been in Los Angeles the past few years, working on Marvel's multitudinous movie and TV projects — if you can call hangin' with many of tineltown's top writers, actors and directors "work"! But y'know something? I've missed the fun and camaraderie of the world's best Bullpen, so I figure it's time for me to poke my nose into the comics again — and what better way to start than by meeting with you regularly here at the sign of the swingin' Soapbox!

And now, the big change I mentioned earlier. Starting next month, this'll be the place where you can get all your questions answered! Whatever you want to know about our comics, movies, video games, cartoon figures, or anything that involves mighty Marvel — which includes almost everything, come to think of it!

I'll be waiting to hear from you, and you know how impatient I get, so don't let me down! Just shoot your questions to "Stan's Soapbox c/o Bullpen Bulletins, Marvel Comics, 387 Park Ave. South, New York, NY 10016" and I'll answer as many as I have room for in each and every issue of each and every Marvel title! See? Doesn't matter what you read — you won't escape me! After all, since we're sharing the maddeningly magnificent Marvel Universe together, we might as well get to know each other better and share our thoughts and opinions as well.

So, wherever you go, whatever you do, think Marvel! And never forget — you're more than a reader to us, even more than a fan — you're a friend, and friends stay in touch with each other!

Excelsior!

ADAM KUBERT TAKES THE

...and the Hulk comes face-to-face with Wolverine, all in the pages of INCREDIBLE HULK #454, which will be hitting the stands next week! Adam, whose action-packed pencils blistered the pages of WOLVERINE for over five years, will be teaming up with his old pal (and fellow WOLVIE inker) Mark Farmer to bring you some of the most awesome art ever seen in the Jade Giant's title!

"I love green!" bleated Adam, when pressed to reveal his reasons for coming aboard the green giant's book. "Seriously, though, what gets me excited about the Hulk is taking him through paces he hasn't been through before! I'm also looking forward to drawing those classic villains — they're all so weird-looking! And with Peter David writing it, you never know what's gonna happen!"

Adam has thrown himself wholeheartedly into working on the book, purchasing tons of old HULK issues and toys, and religiously watching the Sunday morning cartoon show with his kids. "He's a real Frankenstein, a misunderstood guy. That's what I think is so appealing about him! Plus, it's very exciting for me to get to draw Hulk and Wolverine together!" "We're thrilled to have Adam drawing HULK," says editor Bobbie Chase. "But it's a good thing the cartoons are only on Sunday mornings or we'd never get any work out of him!"

SHANG-CHI: RE-ENTER THE DRAGON!

I's spring, and Shang-Chi, the master of Kung Fu himself, is bustin' out all over — most recently in the pages of X-MEN and PETER PARKER, SPIDER-MAN! For those of you unfamiliar with Shang, he's just about the greatest martial arts fighter ever! The man makes Bruce Lee look like an arthritic dishwasher! The son of a diabolical criminal mastermind, Shang-Chi had been living the quiet life of a fisherman in a remote province of China since his father's death. A veteran of many battles with superhuman enemies, Shang-Chi lost his taste for fighting when he realized that he was partly responsible for his evil old man's demise.

But when an old friend from his days as a British secret agent resurfaced, the reticent Kung Fu master realized that he could no longer keep his head buried in the sand — especially when he learned that someone was trying to get ahold of the Elixir Vitae — the same potion which had kept his father eternally young, thereby allowing him to continue his deadly reign long after he should have died! Now it's gettin' personal, and Shang-Chi is back in the ring!

"Shang-Chi is a peaceful man who's been drawn into a violent situation," says editor Mark Powers. "His father was possibly the most evil man in the world, and despite that, his son has a genuine code of honor. And he's a very cool action character!" Catch this character dispatching some cool action next week in PETER PARKER, SPIDER-MAN #81! You won't be disappointed!

ADVENTURES OF THE BULLPEN

Editor Kelly Corvese may have thought he won Rosie O'Donnell's heart in February, but alas for him — another Marvel male had captured that precious organ two weeks earlier! An action figure of GENERATION X's Banshee appeared on Rosie's show back in January! Editor Jaye Gardner, who is a devoted fan of the show, had seen an episode aired just after TV shows were required to be rated on a system similar to that used to rate movies. Rosie's show received a TV-G rating, and she was requesting G-rated products that could be given away on the show.

Jaye shot out of his special "back-saver" office chair and called up Marvel's then PR-wiz John Cerilli and marketing maniac Bob Traub. The two gave the top-rated show a call, and in just a few days, Jaye was cooling his heels on a stack of X-MAN comic books, watching delightedly as Rosie held up a copy of GENERATION X #24 and then the "fully poseable" Banshee. "It's only the hottest show on TV," raved Jaye when he finally tore himself away from the screen. "And they were excited to hear from us!" Gosh, if they're excited now, just wait until we tell 'em about Ralph Macchio's home-made Punisher costume!

WHERE ONE MAN STOOD WITH SWORD AND AXE

Listen, O' searcher, of blood-soaked thrill.
to lore and legend of morbid chill.
Of a place you've never travelled before.
This world on distant and forgotten shore.

Where air scorched nostrils with smoldered ash.
And wind whisp'd of plunder from kingdoms trashed.
And every soul spit and stank of blood,
of guilt and sin in jars of mud.

Where one man stood with sword and axe,
his own heroism he would mask.
In 10,000 B.C. the Hyborian Age,
One against one million, the latest rage.

DRAGONS. DEMONS. AMAZONS AND GHOULS

Dragons. Demons. Amazons and ghouls.
Devil Trees. Living rocks. Wolves in a land without rules.
The list of the dead would grow in this world of sin,
None would think to wager on the wars he would win.

Spiders and monsters and women of dread,
Serpents or apes, he'd lob off their head.
Never's their like been seen by modern eyes.
And this is the story of their terrible demise.

His name is legend to the knowledges and few you may think you know him, but this is surely new.
The stories you've heard in the readings of youth,
